Notes and Comments on Local Events

PREMIER BENNETT is a cheerful optimist. Elected 18 months after the depression commenced, he had an impossible task for one man to accomplish. Many voted for him because they thought a change in government would bring improvement in trade and commerce. He has persistently tried to convince people that better times are on the way, and to instill into Canadians and the world at large that we have the country and the people who will not lay down under reverses. Though the premier may be above the pressing emergencies of actual want, which thousands of people in humble circumstances are experiencing, yet his confidence indicates that he for one sees the silver lining behind the clouds. Here's hoping he is right!

MANY FRIENDS and acquaintances throughout the Crow's Nest Pass are sorry to learn of the critical condition of Frank J. Smith, for many years secretary of Hillcrest Collieries. Six weeks ago he was playing golf, and never for an instant did his friends imagine he was suffering from that dread disease—cancer—which proved only too true when he was operated on about a month ago. He is still in Calgary, where his wife is remaining, they having taken up residence there for the present. Two important events will miss him this month; the first, the annual meeting of Masonic District No. 8 at Coleman on Friday, and the Crow's Nest Pass Musical Festival at Blairmore, later this month. The sympathy of a wide circle of acquaintances is with him in his suffering, and with Mrs. Smith.

"WITHOUT VISION the people perish," or in other words, without imagination, you're a "dead 'un." If you do not use imagination or vision in your view of life or in your business, you are passing up a lot of interest. Often has the writer tried to instill into a storekeeper the necessity of interesting people in his business by advertising, by displaying his enthusiasm in the goods he is trying to sell. Enthusiasm is contagious; so is pessimism; yet enthusiasm pays real dividends. Someone will remark that this is propaganda to sell advertising. It is, because we know that advertising accomplishes results, and people, reading it, become interested and friendly. The business man who is wise cultivates the good will of those with whom he comes in contact and opens wide the door to bigger and better business. St. Paul was a good advertiser. Read all the epistles he wrote in promoting the influence of the Christian church. And people are still reading them hundreds of years after they were written. There's a lesson in that to think of and act on.

SPEAKING OF CHURCHES, hundreds profess to belong to this or that church, yet do not contribute a dime. The church is always asking for support which should be cheerfully given. The cost is borne by the comparatively faithful few. Children have to be christened, young folks married and old people buried. The church opens its doors to all, but when it comes to keeping them open, all too many pass by on the other side. For heaven's sake, if you profess to be a member of a Protestant or Catholic church, don't be a slacker. Don't just send the children to Sunday school and "kid" yourself you have done your duty.

A PIONEER in the lignite coal fields of Southern Saskatchewan, and later identified with mining ventures at Taber and Pasburg, W. L. Hamilton, known to his associates as Billy Hamilton, came to a tragic ending while driving his car near Wawota, Sask. It is presumed that he collapsed and his car running without control, just turned over in the ditch, as no marks were discovered on his body. Always a hard worker, who took very little leisure, life had not been easy for him, and he suffered reverses which would have soured the spirit of many. But he kept on right up to the last, and in truth died with his boots on. He is well remembered by a large circle of acquaintances in the coal industry, and was buried at Blinfield close to the scene of his early experiences in the mining game. May he rest in peace!

THE OUTLOOK for the ninth annual musical festival is brighter than ever, despite it being the fourth year of hard times. The soul of music gleams in increasing brightness in the coal mining environment of the Crow's Nest Pass, for this year there is a record number of entries. It again demonstrates that ambitious people will not be turned aside from the higher and spiritual values which help so greatly to make life more worth while, and to lift their hearts and minds above mere material things on earth. All honor to those who carry on so faithfully to promote musical culture under severe handicaps, and to those parents who sacrifice in order that their children may know the joys and charm that music brings to the soul.

Day Observed in COLUMBUS DAY

Columbus Day is the least celebrated date on this continent. All the world should pause on this anniversary to do honor to the great explorer, whose discovery meant so much to people all over the world.

The following article was written at the request of The Journal by Rev. Father J. T. Dunbar, parish priest of Holy Ghost church, which will prove of interest on this anniversary:

October 12 is known throughout this western hemisphere as Columbus Day. It was on October 12, 1492, that Christopher Columbus planted the Cross on the sandy shores of San Salvador, which he named in honor of the Saviour of Mankind, and claimed the new land in the name of Ferdinand and Isabella of Spain.

The annual recurrence of this great day, great surely for us who live in this land, presents opportunity and obligation. It blazes to men of all classes and creeds their solemn duty to pay generous tribute to the author of a stupendous achievement that has

COLEMAN SCHOOLS examination record, published last week, really needed no words to emphasize the splendid showing which the report indicated, yet commendation is well deserved by teachers and pupils. This is certainly where figures really mean something in showing the results of a year's study and persistent effort, though students rebel occasionally when home study interferes with their pleasures. The road to success is not easy and many pupils discover later in life, when school days are over, that they did not learn enough when they had the opportunity.

CHARLIE CONNOR of Passburg won the Letbridge Herald Thanks giving Day three mile road race in the record time of 16 minutes 20 1/2 seconds. It has often been claimed that the higher altitudes help in developing strong-winded athletes, which is the reason that the Pass town have turned out top-notch hockey players for the big leagues. Connor very soon gained the lead and maintained it throughout the race.

"CRAHAN CUP final ends in tie after twenty minutes overtime" states the news report of the game at Natal on Saturday between Corbin and Michel. 300 fans witnessed the finest game played since the Supinas of Letbridge and Michel met at Michel about a month ago.

"DRIVING THE AGITATOR underground is far more dangerous than giving him the chance to be ridiculed as he spouts from a soap box or platform," states the Letbridge Herald in an editorial commenting on the action of the Toronto police in making martyrs out of agitators.

JAMES FORD,
Secretary-Treasurer.

promoted human welfare and advanced man's destiny more powerfully than any event since the donation of the Magna Charta at Runnymede.

This day marks the triumphant vindication of a life of patient, heroic fortitude in devotion to lofty ideal. It sets up for honor and reverence a man of flaming human spirit, prevailing against odds well worthy to be considered insuperable. It is a day dedicated to the commemoration of that October morning 441 years ago when the heroic navigator Christopher Columbus laid bare this vast Western Hemisphere to the astounding gaze of the Old World.

Columbus defied all known precedents of his day and time. Few, if any, of those who watched his tiny fleet sinking below the western horizon ever expected his return. He sailed to almost certain death in devotion to an ideal. But success crowned his efforts. His triumph thrilled Europe. And in a few hundred years that new world has been reclaimed from savagery, repopulated and transformed into groups of great and powerful nations. We, the citizens of one of the greatest of these nations, see its products, material, social and political, turned back to assist and revolutionize the very nations of the Old World whose transplanted sons developed the new.

We now enjoy the blessings which but for Christopher Columbus would have been delayed for centuries. And for that crowning beneficent mandate owes him eternal gratitude and honor. Today, then, we honor Christopher Columbus; we laud his monumental contribution, and we trace the influences which made his success so fruitful for man's substantial betterment.

Margaret Cuthbert of Macleod spent the week-end with Lorraine Rippon, and Mr. and Mrs. Cuthbert came on Sunday to spend the day.

MAY CHARTER TRAIN FROM CRANBROOK FOR FESTIVAL (Cranbrook Courier)

A movement is on foot to charter a special train from here for the Blairmore festival, as it is expected that there will be an attendance of well over 100 from this part of the district. In fact the members of the Cranbrook and Kimberley choirs and those of the Cranbrook Symphony Orchestra will likely exceed that number, aside from others who may wish to attend.

Upward Trend Now Under Way

HON. E. N. RHODES AND PROMINENT BANKERS ENDORSE BENNETT'S FIGURES

The Prime Minister's confident and encouraging statement introducing the new Dominion Loan has created a very positive and favorable reaction throughout the country. Its clear-cut expression of his conviction that recovery is under way, together with the evidence he cited, have stimulated a growing sense of optimism in business circles which is reflected in the subscriptions to the New Loan. There has also been widespread endorsement of his view that, although the road may be long and progress slow, the events of the past six months appear to demonstrate with increasing clarity that the downward trend has come to a definite stop and that the upward trend is in progress.

Some examples of the comment from prominent Canadians follow. Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance: "As Canadians we must all share in the sense of encouragement that the Prime Minister has inspired by his statement regarding the improvement in business conditions throughout this country. It has called our attention to indications of recovery that have become increasingly definite with each succeeding month, and which have been so sustained and consistent that one can no longer doubt their significance."

Arthur Brisbane says: "The local newspaper, calling the country newspaper, is ten, twenty times as valuable to the advertiser as the big metropolitan daily."

Corcuses found by the dam gave the impression that spring had returned.

Coleman Well Represented at Coming Musical Festival

General Committee Discusses Details and Expect Record Attendance

The general committee of the musical festival met in the Greenhill hotel on Tuesday evening. Lance Morgan presided, Mrs. Farmer was secretary, and present were Medames L. Morgan, S. G. Bannan, G. Steves, J. E. Cranston and Miss Chardon. Gentlemen present were J. E. Upton, W. Kerr, Dr. Rose, Rev. A. E. Larke, Rev. A. S. Partington, Rev. Roy C. Taylor, W. H. Moser, H. T. Halliwell. It was reported that Cranbrook will probably charter a special train to bring from 150 to 200 people on Saturday, Oct. 28, a large number of contestants already having sent in entries. Coleman will be represented by the Citizens Band, Miss May Powell's school orchestra, and several individual competitors. Michel band is entered, and choirs and orchestras from all Pass towns. Cranbrook orchestra under Conductor Raven, Blairmore under J. E. Upton, and Hillcrest under W. H. Moser are entered, and junior orchestras from Blairmore under Roy Upton and Hillcrest also under Mr. Moser.

Miss Freeborn of Pincher Creek will be official accompanist. The number of entries considerably exceeds those of last year, and it is likely that seating accommodation for the evening sessions of the three days will be taxed to capacity.

Season tickets for the entire three days are $3.00, and for evenings only $1.50, and may be procured in Coleman from Mrs. Fred Antrous, W. J. McBurney, George Pattinson, W. J. Harris or other committee members.

A vote of thanks was passed to J. E. Upton for his promotion of the festival, in connection with the festival, and a vote of sympathy to Frank J. Smith, general secretary of the association.

THE LADIES' AUXILIARY of St. Paul's United church will hold their annual bazaar in the club room on Sat. Nov. 25 from 3 to 6 p.m. Tea will be served and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

Medical Attention For Relief Recipients May Be Forthcoming

Ottawa, Ont.—The Dominion Government is in entire accord with the movement to secure adequate medical attention for those who are forced to subsist on unemployment relief, but the administration of such additional assistance lies with the provincial government. This was the tentative answer given a delegation of the Canadian Medical Association Friday, by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, but it was not his last word and a statement covering the whole situation is expected shortly.

It was felt that the Prime Minister and his associates were entirely in accord with the efforts being made to secure medical attention for those who, in many cases according to the delegation, have been greatly neglected in this respect.

Dr. G. A. B. Addy of Saint John, N.B., president, and five members of the Canadian and provincial medical associations, made up the delegation. They urged that medical care be added to the other items included in the general relief scheme, food, clothing, shelter and fuel. Practically all the provinces had already expressed a willingness to bear their share of extra cost if the Dominion Government would do the same. The division would be two-thirds for the provinces and one-third to be paid by the Dominion.

The delegation included Dr. D. S. Johnstone, Regina.

U.S. Veterans Parade

Col. Lafache Witnesses Imposing Spectacle In Chicago
Chicago—Like a moving human spectrum, dazzling in color, awe-inspiring in magnitude, the American Legion marched 160,000 strong down broad Michigan boulevard.

Then the grand parade of American "Buddies" who did their part in the Great War, along with their women's auxiliaries swung into the Soldier Field amphitheatre to be reviewed by an assemblage of distinguished persons, Col. L. R. Lafache, Canada's deputy minister of defence, among them.

The march past, which lasted for 10 unbroken hours, was the lone activity on the 15th annual convention program.

British Steel Plants Busy

News From Sheffield Regarding Business Is Cheering
London, Eng.—Cheering business news came from the United Kingdom's heavy industries, particularly from Sheffield, centre of the steel trade.

C. J. Walsh, just installed in the historic office of master cutler of Sheffield, reported plants in that city are producing more steel than in previous days and that the monthly output is 27,000 tons more than a year ago. A considerable share of this improvement, Walsh said, was a direct result of the tariff on imported steel. He added Sheffield's newer products such as magnets, razor blades and stainless steel have made great strides during the last year.

Relief Workers Perish In Disastrous Forest Fire At Los Angeles

Los Angeles, California.—Twenty-six bodies were recovered from the ruins of a disastrous forest fire in Griffith Park, the city's main playground, a 27th day after the fire broke out, and fire officials expressed relief no others had perished, saying "nearly every foot" of the burned area had been searched.

Those who perished were unemployment relief workers on park roads, called to fight a small blaze starting near the golf course.

Most of the known dead and the more than 125 injured were trapped in a box-like canyon. The wind shifted and sent the flames toward them. Scents of horror followed as they struggled to escape. More than 1,000

Will Balance Budget

Conditions In Britain Show Good Improvement

London, Eng.—Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, told a group of bankers Britain's budget would be balanced this year and that undoubtedly the situation in the United Kingdom offered a more favorable prospect than it did a year ago.

"There is no sign of an approaching doom," said Mr. Chamberlain, "but on the other hand in almost every direction we see indications of definite progress and a growing sense of the confidence that this is no mere flash in the pan, but the beginning of a permanent advance."

The Chancellor said it seemed likely Great Britain ultimately would return to the gold standard.

"But," he continued, "we in this country cannot consent to let our currency to gold until we are certain that the conditions prevailing are such as will permit the gold standard to function efficiently."

Granted Reprieve

Stay Execution For McLeans Comes At Last Moment

Edmonton, Alberta.—With death on the gallows only a few hours away, Kenneth and William McLean, father and son, were granted a two weeks' reprieve by Mr. Justice Twidie in a special night session of the supreme court. They were due to die at dawn Friday for the murder of Walter J. Parselle, Mannville, Alberta farmer, on September 30, 1932.

With explicit instructions from the court, an assistant sheriff raced 20 miles to Fort Saskatchewan to personally deliver the warrants ordering the stays in the executions. Mr. Justice Twidie sat in his office at the court house, until he received confirmation by telephone from Warden John McLean at the jail that the warrants had been received.

Fascist Party Being Developed In England

Young People Studying Movement States Hon. Herbert Greenfield

Calgary, Alberta.—Within three or four years at the present rate of development, England would have a Fascist party that would be a power to be reckoned with, Hon. Herbert Greenfield told the young men's section of the board of trade. Mr. Greenfield was formerly agent-general for Alberta in London, England.

Unemployment and economic pressure is driving England's youth into the ranks of the Communist and the Fascist, Mr. Greenfield declared. The younger generation is giving profound study to conditions and problems and new movements are springing up.

Jobless Camps

Nearly One Hundred Camps Operated By Department Of National Defence

Ottawa, Ont.—Nearly 100 unemployment relief camps are now being operated by the Department of National Defence, but these are not all. It was learned here. On September 15 the capacity of the camps was 18,500, but their strength in personnel totalled only 11,400 men.

Harvesting work in the western provinces depleted the number of single, unemployed men who were being cared for in these camps. Indications are, however, that with the cessation of harvesting operations, the men will return.

U.S. Unions Backing Canadian Rail Workers

Full Support Pledged In Dispute Over Wage Cut

Cleveland, Ohio.—A. F. Whitney, chairman of the Railway Labor Executives' Association, said the organization's full support had been pledged to Canadian railroad workers in their campaign against a second 10 per cent. wage reduction.

Representatives of the Canadian railroads conferred with rail-labor officials in his office on June 1, Mr. Whitney said, and at that time a resolution was adopted providing all legal expenses of the Canadian anti-wage reduction campaign would be paid by the railway labor unions and any other needed support would be given.

The resolution, Mr. Whitney said, provided the association should "go as far as possible" in aiding the workers of the Dominion, many of whom, he said, were receiving wages approximately 17½ per cent. lower than rail workers in the same capacities in the United States.

The rail unions have approximately 14,000 members in Canada, Mr. Whitney said.

Obligation Rests With Four Western Provinces

Dominion Government Has No Control Over Refunding Timber Dues

Ottawa, Ont.—The obligation to refund timber dues rests with the four western provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, and not with the Dominion, under the terms of a judgment handed down by the supreme court of Canada.

In its judgment the court dealt with a reference made to it by the Dominion Government. The reference developed from a dispute between the Dominion and the western provinces concerning dues paid by homesteaders for the privilege of cutting timber on their lands for commercial purposes.

Think Port's Future Assured
Churchill, Man.—With the restoration of normal crops the future of Churchill is assured, grain men of this northern Manitoba port believed. Despite a temporary setback received when lower lake freight rates were put into effect, sailings early to last season's record number, carried a greater quantity of grain to overseas ports.

To Resume Negotiations Between Railroad Heads And Union Officials

Premier's Statement Endorsed

Leading Bankers And Economists Say Recovery Sure

Ottawa, Ont.—The sentiments of Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, contained in his statement in connection with the government loan, in which he expressed the belief that Canada was well started on the road to recovery, were endorsed by several leading bankers and economists.

Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, issued a statement in which he declared that indications of recovery that had become increasingly definite with each succeeding month, "have been so sustained and consistent that one can no longer doubt their significance."

Morris W. Wilson, vice-president and general manager of the Royal Bank of Canada, expressed the opinion that available statistics "do not fully reflect the improvement which has occurred."

Sir Thomas White, vice-president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, said "In almost every branch of the country's economic life there has been a slow but steady advance from the low point of last April."

Professor Gilbert Jackson, University of Toronto, described the Prime Minister's words as "a very temperate statement—fully validated by facts."

Farmers Protest

Charge Discrimination In Removal Of Pegged Minimum Price

North Battleford, Sask.—Charging discrimination against the farmers of northwest Saskatchewan in respect to the removal of the pegged minimum price, wheat pool delegates in session in North Battleford despatched the following telegram to Premier R. B. Bennett: "Wheat pool delegates in session at North Battleford representing northwest Saskatchewan, emphatically request that strong action be taken to stop falling minimum wheat market."

"Removed pegged minimum price discrimination against northern farmer, lower prices destroying confidence in the London agreement."

"Believe national marketing board is the only solution. Volume, daily exports, should not be a factor, as 200 million bushels guaranteed for next year."

Dismissed By Nazis

Grandson Of Mendelssohn Loses Position In German University

Hamburg, Germany.—Professor Albrecht Mendelssohn Bartholdy, grandson of the composer Mendelssohn, has been dismissed from the University of Hamburg and the Institute of Foreign Affairs, of which he was head.

Famous in international law, Bartholdy was dismissed because of his Jewish nationality. He was a pioneer in agitating against the claim of Germany's sole war guilt. His grandfather's music is no longer played nationally.

Gerhart Eisner, a noted Jewish professor of civil law decorated in the war, also was dismissed.

Urges British Settlers

St. John, N.B.—"Unless some definite steps are taken immediately to counteract the growing preponderance of settlers of non-British origin, Western Canada will soon completely lose its already fast-disappearing Anglo-Saxon characteristics," Brigadier-General M. L. Hornby, of Lethbridge, Alberta, said here.

Ottawa, Ont.—Negotiations between the Canadian Railways and their employees will be resumed without delay, following the good offices of the Dominion Government.

In a statement issued by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, after having conferences with the railway heads and the union officials, it was indicated that both parties to the dispute realized the seriousness of the situation "accentuated by the course of events which the Canadian people can neither direct nor control."

Mr. Bennett explained that successive governments had realized that neither the railways nor the men desired intervention when unions and employers were negotiating wage and working schedules. In the present instance, the government had not undertaken to suggest to either party the terms by which the dispute should be settled.

Members of the running trades of the two major railway systems determinedly rejected a proposed 10 per cent reduction below the rate of pay agreed upon a year ago when they took a 10 per cent. cut on the basic rates. When a conciliation board found in favor of the employers a vote of the union members resulted in overwhelming approval to go on strike rather than submit to the reduction.

In negotiations with S. J. Hungerford, president of the Canadian National, and Grant Hall, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific, Mr. Bennett and the ministers associated with him on this question, pressed upon the rail executives the necessity, in the national interest, of every possible effort being made to bring to a successful issue the negotiations with the representatives of the employees.

The same plea was made to the representatives of the unions who visited the Prime Minister.

Paris Papers Criticize French Foreign Minister

Making Too Many Concessions To Germans Is Complaint

Geneva, Switzerland.—Criticism appearing in French newspapers to the effect that Joseph Paul-Boncour, the French foreign minister, was making too many concessions to the Germans, especially regarding the size of the French army, was said to have decided him to go to Paris and consult with the cabinet.

Revelation that a French statesman had conferred with the secretary of Germany's ministry of propaganda, Paul Joseph Goebbels, was said to have excited some of the French leaders.

M. Paul-Boncour told the assembly of the League of Nations that the four-power European peace pact of Great Britain, France, Italy and Germany strengthens the Locarno pact.

Farmed In Peace River

Former Westerner May Be Scottish National Labor Candidate

Kilmarnock, Scotland.—Kenneth Lindsay, who farmed in the Peace River district of Alberta 10 years ago while studying emigration, may be the National Labor candidate in the Kilmarnock by-election. Lindsay has also lectured in Canada and he was the first Labor president of the Oxford union.

The by-election is due to the appointment of Craigie Aitchison as lord justice-clerk. The only National Labor ticket elected in Scotland in last general elections. He had a majority of 7,036 in a straight fight with Labor.

British Labor Party For Total Disarmament Of All Nations Of World

Hastings, England.—The Labor Party pledged its strong resistance to any war, passed a resolution favoring the total disarmament of all nations and heard Arthur Henderson declare the participation of the United States and Russia is necessary in peace conversations sponsored by the League of Nations.

"The road to Washington and Moscow lies through Geneva," said Mr. Henderson, chairman of the world disarmament conference, in explaining that the league is the only instrument for peace organization. He won cheers when he said, "we must abolish the national equipment and institutions that made war possible and the private interests that lived by war."

The party's attitude toward war was supplemented by the equally strong views in the disarmament resolution. This motion favored not only total disarmament of all nations but also the creation of an international police force.

Hear Dr. E. H. Oliver, former moderator of the United Church of Canada, at the missionary rally in Blairmore on Tuesday, Oct. 17. Concert at 7:30 p.m., followed by mass meeting at 8 p.m. Everybody welcome.

Robert F. Barnes won the Charlton golf cup, and incidentally reminded the reporter that he was one of the players defeated by George Kellock last week. Now, why bring that up?

Winners at the Catholic whist drive last Thursday were: Mr. J. P. J. Woods, H. Nash and A. Fauville. A competition for the grand aggregate is being arranged, and prizes for the season's play will be awarded.

Joe Lysek of the Palm Confectionery is advertising a big consignment of various brands of apples. He is unloading 750 cases, making a complete carload of finest quality fruit, including some pears, all from British Columbia.

The Welsh society held a very successful whist drive on Friday, Oct. 6. The prize-winners were Mrs. Creagan, Mrs. Cawsey, Mrs. J. Richards and Bert Garrett. Lunch was served and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing to the music of Marion's orchestra.

Before accepting exaggerated claims of circulation of free publicity sheets or advertising dodgers, those who buy space should find out how far such claims may be substantiated. There is plenty of inflated circulation which is not worth a cent as far as selling power is concerned.

Mr. Wm. Stevenson, general manager of Hillcrest Collieries, in a telephone message, stated that Mr. Frank J. Smith was a little better on Wednesday, and that he had been moved from hospital in Calgary to a residence which had been rented by Mrs. Smith during his critical condition.

Two humorous plays, sponsored by the ladies of the United church, were presented this week. On Tuesday there was a dress rehearsal given for the children, and on Wednesday night the adults enjoyed the plays. Several of the girls helped the ladies by taking part in the plays.

The Grand Union hotel pool on the world's baseball series was won on Thursday, Oct. 5 by Mrs. Wason, matron at the hospital, and on Friday by C. W. MacKinnon, C.P.R. agent. The amounts were $64 and $80. Jim Wilson won Saturday's pool, amount $104. The pool created keen interest in the great American game, and was efficiently conducted by Ian M. Neave to the satisfaction of all parties.

ST. ALBAN'S CHURCH, COLEMAN
Next Sunday is the 18th after Trinity. The services will be: 11:15 a.m. Holy Communion and address; 12:30 p.m. Sunday school.

UNITED CHURCH NOTES
The Communion service Sunday morning was largely attended at St. Paul's United church. The junior choir rendered a much appreciated selection and Mr. Taylor preached on "Remembering God's Benefits." The church was tastefully decorated with flowers, fruit, vegetables and leaves, giving a pleasing setting to the thought of Thanksgiving.

At the evening worship which was the Thanksgiving service proper the congregation were delighted with two solos rendered by Mr. B. Skinner of Calgary, in his fine tenor voice. Mr. Harris gave a violin selection which was very much appreciated. Mr. Taylor delivered a heartening sermon on "Remembering God's Benefits." The splendid congregational singing of Thanksgiving hymns was an inspiration. Many visitors were in evidence in the congregation.

The regular services will be held morning and evening in St. Paul's United church Sunday, Oct. 15. The junior choir will lead the singing at the morning worship. Sunday school will meet in session at 12:15. The senior choir will practice at 8 Friday.

Bird Banding In Canada Provides Valuable Information In Tracing Movements Of Wild Life

The economic importance of wild birds and their relation to man's welfare is being more widely recognized, and by bird banding the store of knowledge of their movements and habits is gradually being extended. In order to take proper steps toward conservation, by the enactment of good game laws, properly located bird sanctuaries, and other means, it is essential that as much exact scientific information as possible be available concerning all species of native wild birds.

Scientific bird banding as a means of studying and solving the many varied problems relating to the migration, range, breeding grounds, and general life histories of wild birds is conducted in full co-operation between the National Parks Service of the Department of the Interior, Canada, and the United States Bureau of Biological Survey at Washington, D.C. Most of the banding work is done by voluntary co-operators throughout Canada and the United States.

The general public is urged to aid in this work by watching for bands on the legs of any birds that may come into their possession and to report the finding of such bands to the Commissioner, National Parks Service, giving the number on the band, the date on which the bird was taken, as well as the location and whether the bird was killed, found dead, or captured alive.

All official bands are of aluminum or copper and are inscribed with a serial number and with a letter designation. There is reason to believe that each year, many bands have been recovered, but for various reasons not reported to the Department. Recently, official bird bands recovered from wild birds have been found hanging on nails, strung together as necklaces used as toys by children, and in many curious places in wilderness and civilized surroundings.

Bird banding may be carried on only under Dominion permit and none but official bands may be placed on wild birds. Full information as to the manner in which bird banding is being conducted will be gladly furnished persons who are interested, upon application to the Commissioner, National Parks Service, Department of the Interior, Ottawa.

Radio Stations Direct Ships

Thousands Of Direction Calls Are Answered Every Year

An instance of the work done by Canadian government wireless stations in guiding North Atlantic shipping is provided by the Chebucto Head direction-finding station at the entrance to Halifax harbor. A yearly average of 4,000 to 5,000 calls from ships off the coast are answered by this station. Since its establishment in 1917 the number of wrecks along this section of the coast has greatly decreased.

Located nine miles from Halifax, the Chebucto Head Station was erected by the Department of Marine for the purpose of giving bearings to ships and handling commercial messages. A staff of five maintains 24-hour service.

Other stations are located at Sable Island, St. Paul, Cape, Yarmouth, Red Head, N.B., Cape Race, Nfld., and Father Point, Que. Operators are transferred at one or two year intervals.

Canada's Maple Trees

Not Only Ornamental But Have Great Monetary Value

The maple tree, the leaf of which is the national emblem of Canada, is not only a notably fine ornamental tree, but also has a unique monetary value apart from its value as lumber, for the production of maple syrup and maple sugar in Canada this year was 1,262,315 gallons of syrup valued at $1,559,628, and 5,785,139 pounds of sugar with a value of $499,713, the combined value being $2,059,341. Most of the maple syrup and maple sugar produced in Canada comes from the Province of Quebec, with Ontario in second place. Small quantities are produced in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. These products are derived from millions of maple trees which are tapped in the month of March each year.

Cannot Have Been Mistaken

Many Sailors Have Seen Sea Serpents In Persian Gulf

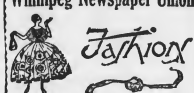

A sea serpent appears in the Persian Gulf. Millions of landmen who have never been anywhere near the Persian Gulf say that nothing of the sort happened at all. Yet for 200 years these monsters have been sighted in the less frequented seas. It is difficult to believe that eight generations of travellers and seamen have been fools. The first fully documented account of a sea serpent was furnished by Hans Egede, a Norwegian missionary to Bergen, in 1740; the latest, by two officers of H.M. surveying ship "Killett" in the Thames estuary in 1923.—London Daily Express.

No Cause For Pessimism

Conditions Bound To Improve If Canadian Began

There is a present danger that there may be new wave of pessimism sweep over the people, and especially in the West, because conditions in the farming community have not improved up to expectations. There is absolutely no cause for any such sentiment. In one way Canadians can make the Dominion self-sufficient, and that is by the promotion of confidence, which is a species of "nationalism" in which there is nothing but good.—Regina Star.

GEYSERS AS SOURCE OF ENERGY: AN ITALIAN PROPOSAL

Offers Every Convenience

Westminster Replaces Civil Marriage Registries With Modern Building

Two famous civil marriage registries, in London, England, scene of many a wedding of peer and stage star, film notable, costermonger or ex-convict, have themselves contracted a union. The old, gloomy office in Princes Row, Westminster, and the equally dilapidated office in Henrietta Street, Covent Garden, have been succeeded by a brand-new building at Caxton Hall, Westminster.

The oak-paneled hall in the new building leads to no fewer than seven rooms where the knot can be tied with efficiency and dispatch in the presence of anywhere from half a dozen to a half a hundred spectators. Should a reception follow, every convenience is afforded for spreading a west end hotel dinner or merely botled beer and sandwiches.

An Anglican clergyman is partly responsible for this move for bright civil marriages. Rev. E. Schomburgk, vicar of St. Andrew's, Ashley Place, as Mayor of Westminster, presides over the Westminster City Council which inaugurated the change.

"People who get married in church just to have an imposing background, and who care little for the beauty and solemnity of the actual service, can get all the pomp and circumstance they want here," he says. "I shall not mind foregoing a lot of fees if this new office takes some of these people off my hands."

Canadian Women In Industry

Over 12,000 In Manufacturing End Of Building

At the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress held at Windsor, Ont., Ernest Ingalls, of London, international organizer of the electricians, gave some impressive figures on the extent to which women are employed in the manufacturing end of the building industry.

In June, 1931, on bureau of statistics figures, there were 12,202 women employed, many of them on heavy and laborious work, competing directly with men. In the electric manufacturing end there were 16,342 men and 3,991 women, and in the boiler and machinery (not agricultural) end 17,358 men and 1,051 women. Some of these women were operating huge cranes.

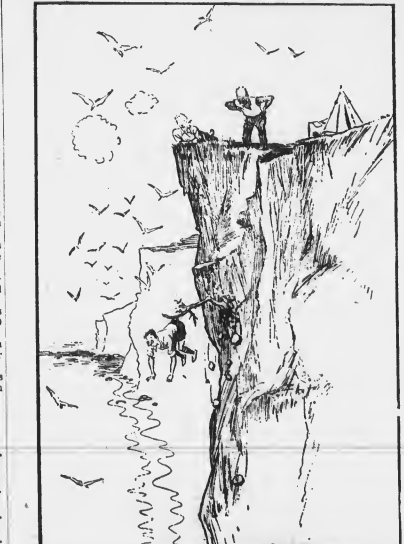

Women should work the same hours as men, he thought, and the hours should be arranged so that all of the surplus labor would be absorbed.

Delegate Arthur Martel, of Montreal, pointed out that in Quebec the women asked the men to keep their hands off the working hours. "They stated," he said, "they can hardly keep body and soul together now, 'so don't interfere with how long we work, so that we get still less. We will work out our own problems.'"

He—"My dear, it's no use for you to look at those hats; I have not more than a dollar in my pocket."

She—"You might have known by when we came out that I'd want to buy a few things."

He—"I did."

"We've simply got to get him up somehow, it's his turn to do the dishes."—The Humorist, London.

Western Provinces Account For More Than Half Of Acreage In Canada Devoted To Oats

The cultivation of oats is of more recent date than that of wheat and barley. While the origin of the cultivation of wheat can be traced in all probability to a warm climate, and that of rye to a cold climate, oats were found occupying an intermediate position. It is not possible to find any record of their use by the ancient peoples of Egypt, Palestine, Greece, Rome, India or China. Probably oats were cultivated at an early date by people who inhabited east-central Europe, and some historians point more definitely to Tartary in Western Asia as the probable place of their first cultivation. Oats were less important than wheat, barley or rye in the early development of southern Europe, but came into much greater use with the civilization and expansion of the central and northern (temperate) portions of the continent. The crop, being particularly suited to the cool, moist climate, became a leading cereal.

Having many other uses besides that of food for man, the oats crop has continually expanded in natural sequence of crop cultivation. At first only such crops were grown as would serve for human food and natural meadows provided sufficient forage for domestic animals. With increasing population more and more ground was devoted to the production of cereals for human consumption. The value of land and natural resources were broken up. Other crops were grown as food for livestock, and thus the use of fodder crops, like oats, has become an increasingly important part of husbandry, especially in temperate regions.

On the basis of acreage and tonnage produced, oats rank second only to wheat. In 1932 the acreage of wheat in North America was $2,400,000 acres and yielded 1,164,000,000 bushels, while in Europe, excluding Russia, 85,900,000 acres produced 1,485,000,000 bushels. Oats sown in Europe on 54,500,000 acres yielded 1,558,000,000 bushels and in North America from 42,200,000 acres 1,825,000,000 bushels were produced. This made 2,490,000,000 bushels of wheat from 168,300,000 acres and 3,486,000,000 bushels of oats from 96,500,000 acres. In Canada oats weigh thirty-four pounds to the bushel and wheat sixty pounds. The United States bushel of oats is thirty-two pounds.

While the area sown to oats is considerably less than the area sown to wheat in North America and Europe, production of oats, in bushels, exceeds that of wheat by about 800,000,000 bushels due to higher yields per acre. On a tonnage basis, of course, the production of wheat exceeds that of oats by a considerable margin.

Oats are produced over a wide area but heaviest production is found in the middle western areas of the United States, Canada, the United Kingdom, Germany, France and Russia. These six countries produce about seventy-five per cent. of world production of oats.

The nature of the disposition of the world production of oats is indicated by the fact that although world production amounts to about 4,500,000,000 bushels, world trade in oats amounts to only about 100,000,000 bushels, or slightly over two per cent. of production. Therefore, the great bulk of world production of oats is consumed at or near areas of production.

The chief use of oats is as a feed for livestock. Oats are the standard feed grain for horses and, alone or in combination with other grains, are used as a feed for cattle, sheep, hogs and poultry. In spite of a high percentage fibre content, oats are relatively high in protein and fat. Oats rank with wheat in protein content and are higher than wheat and barley in fat content.

The area sown to oats in Canada in 1932 amounted to 13,148,000 acres compared with an area of 27,182,100 acres sown to wheat; 3,757,000 acres sown to barley and 773,800 acres sown to rye. In other words, of the total area sown to the four leading cereal crops 29.3 per cent. was sown to oats.

According to the estimate of 1932 cereal production, production of oats in Canada amounted to 391,561,000 bushels compared with wheat production of 428,514,000 bushels, barley production of 80,773,000 bushels and rye production of 8,998,000 bushels. Converting the foregoing production figures to a tonnage basis, total production of the four cereals amounted to 21,700,464 tons of which 6,656,500 tons or 30.7 per cent. consisted of oats.

Reports to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics show 33.3 per cent. of 1932 acreage sown to oats in Saskatchewan, 20.6 per cent. in Alberta and 11.3 per cent. in Manitoba. The prairie provinces accounted for 65.1 per cent. of the total Canadian acreage devoted to oats in 1932. Ontario and Quebec had 17.8 and 13.1 per cent. respectively. The balance 4.0 per cent. was distributed among the Maritime provinces and British Columbia.

It is noted that there is a tendency toward decreased consumption of oats in Canada in recent years. Many causes have contributed. One of the most important factors in the decline has been the introduction of power machinery in western Canada. During the years 1924 to 1929 or 1929, the tractor displaced the horse to a considerable extent especially in regions where oats are not considered a favorable crop. The tractor not only displaced the horse from the farm, but in many cases relegated the horse to a pasture diet. It is probable that the number of horses resident in cities has also decreased in recent years owing to the mechanization of delivery systems. Further, the use of oats in Canada has, no doubt, been affected by the increase of feeding of barley to livestock in order to promote the use of barley as a feeding grain.

During the past seven years the United Kingdom has imported an average of 23.4 million bushels of oats per year. The Canadian share of this trade may be estimated at about 4.6 million bushels or slightly over 20 per cent. of total imports into the United Kingdom. During the past seven years, Canadian exports of oats have averaged 11.1 million bushels per year. Consequently it would appear that the United Kingdom has absorbed slightly over 40 per cent. of total Canadian exports of oats during the seven years.

Animal Life Is Heavy

Destruction By Rabbits In Australia

Pointing out that Australia is now conducting its annual campaign to exterminate rabbits, Vice-Conseil R. H. Hunt calls attention to the havoc wrought in the Commonwealth by this prolific pest.

It is estimated, he points out, that the destruction caused by the rabbits amounts to between 20 and 40 million pounds sterling annually, a sum about equal to the country's national debt.

Not only is the loss computed on the damage done to crops, but on the reduced carrying capacity of the land, the loss of stock in drought years caused by the rabbits eating out the native herbage and bush which normally would be sustaining for stock, and the loss of water in dams and other reserves through banks weakened by burrows.

So destructive have rabbits been in parts of Central Australia, that they have destroyed the native herbage, causing large areas to become windward wastes.

A fairly substantial export trade in furs and carcases has been developed, the report shows. During the fiscal years 1931-32 exports from the Commonwealth amounted to 7,892,000 pairs, valued at $2,230,000 and 7,863,000 pounds of skins, worth $2,378,000.

Rabbits and hares were introduced into Australia from England in 1859. By the end of the nineties they had invaded every section of the Commonwealth.

The Weekly Newspaper

Is Taken Home And Read By The Whole Family

An Alberta weekly newspaper notes that when a lot of country people in its province go to the post-office for their mail they litter those offices with a lot of mail material, but never with the newspapers they receive. It notes that circulars and such matter are constantly and abundantly consigned to the floor, but that newspapers are accorded infinitely greater respect. They may be consigned to kindred fate later, but never until after they are taken home and read by the whole family, including hired man.

This is true, and it is also readily explainable. The newspaper carries much of interest and value. It mirrors the great world without. It is not only a welcome visitor, but a veritable institution in the home. Furthermore, its cost is relatively trivial.—Regina Leader-Post.

SYNOPSIS

Camilla Hoyt, young and beautiful, falls in love with Peter Anson, fellow student in an art school. She is the adopted daughter of a wealthy family, and he is a poor, struggling sculptor. On their first date Peter spends most of his money to show Camilla a good time, and then decides he must give her up because he can't stand the financial pace. A chance meeting, however, saves the way for another date. This time they walk in the park. Camilla tells Peter that she is not rich, or, at least, will not inherit the Hoyt fortune. Peter in turn confesses he is practically penniless. They fall into each other's arms. Together, in the park, Peter and Camilla try to arrive at some plan for the future. Mrs. Hoyt, Camilla's foster mother, suspects from Camilla's actions that a romance is brewing. She is anxious to see Camilla wed wealthy Mr. Hoyt immediately begins to question the girl about the interest Peter is showing her. She manages to be present on one occasion when Peter calls for Camilla, but the latter's clever stage management thwarts her plan. At a school party, Avis Worth, another wealthy art student, who is attracted to Peter, claims a dance with him, and in the meantime Camilla disappears. Peter had last seen her with Gus Matson, his roommate, whom she has befriended.

Now Go On With The Story

CHAPTER XIII.

When Peter first had admitted to Gus that he was serious about Camilla Hoyt, the latter had ridiculed his friend with jeering scorn. "Sure, if you want to land in the gutter just go ahead and fail for all the swell dames that cherish your handsome mug. Be a gigolo. Let some bawlers pay your tailor and your barber and your hotel bills and lead you around by a gold leash and collar. Go on, you're built just for that. Let us men who are not so good to look at, do the work of the world and take the honors."

"That'll do for you," Peter warned, half angry. "Whether or not I love Camilla and whether or not she has money, will not affect my work in the least."

"Oh, no? Well, I've seen that work-out. And it's a wash-out, always. Forget the love-slush, kid, and be a man."

"When you find love, you are a man," Peter said soberly. "If you weren't one before, you have to be then."

"Say, what kinda true confession magazines have you been reading? I thought I was watchin' your habits better'n that!" he jeered.

To escape such tirades without an exhibition of anger, Peter had decided that if Gus knew Camilla, he would understand how serious he was about her. So he arranged for them to meet. The three had dined together one evening, in an obscure little restaurant on a side street where a bombastic sign in the window had promised, "All You Can Eat for Just." Camilla had insisted upon going there when Peter suggested the dinner. He had demurred.

"Where," she demanded, "would you and Gus have dinner, if you were alone? Tell me the truth."

He met her eyes with an amused gleam. "Well, the best kind of place to take Gus is one where they advertise a fat rat. He's a smaller man than I am but his capacity for food is on the down and down."

Caked Udder Cleared

Experienced dairymen find Minard's particularly good for treating caked udder, lame, swollen, inflamed, and sore.

W. N. 11, 2015

"That is where we shall go then—to a flat-rate restaurant. You find one—or I shan't go anywhere with you!"

"That was that, and settled the matter. The walls of the restaurant which they selected were of green tile decorated with a black frieze, instead of painted murals and tapestries. The music was of clattering nickel-alloy on vitrolite tables and soprano voices of waitresses calling their orders to the cook."

"But what are you gonna do with her, kid? You can't afford a wife like that any more than you can own a Rolls-Royce or a yacht. The upkeep is about the same. Or do the car and the yacht go with her?"

"Not much. She goes with me."

"Yeah? Whither thou goest, I will go—that kind of hokey? Say, kid," he pushed his hands away with a gesture of disdain. "That's what they say until they get you. Then all say when they've slipped the collar and chain on, they make you do the followin' and take all the fancy steps they do, besides. Good-bye career, for you."

Peter did not enlighten Gus concerning Camilla's situation. That was her secret, and her private affair, anyway. So he ignored Gus's ridicule and dire prophecies, and avoided further references to Camilla as much as possible. The two had met subsequently in the routine of classes, and Gus had been at least in his attentions to Camilla at fortnightly reception.

The second time he danced with her, he remarked in a confidential tone, "You're pretty keen about Peter, I guess."

"Everyone likes Peter," she agreed. "Sure, swell guy. But I mean seriously, Miss Hoyt, you and Peter have things settled pretty well, I believe."

"Did Peter tell you?" surprised. "No, but I have two eyes, two ears and a brain that works every other impulse or so," he grinned indulgently.

Camilla laughed. "Well?"

He sobered. "I didn't ask you that."

"I'll Not Listen To Another Word."

just to be inquisitive. I had a reason, and a good one. I know some things about Peter that I think it's my duty to tell you. For his good and your own."

Camilla looked up anxiously, with a little puzzled frown. "I shouldn't want to know anything about Peter that he didn't tell me, himself."

"Why not?" he demanded.

"Why—that wouldn't be fair to him, it seems to me."

"You're a queer one," he said. "That's when a woman can be the most help to a man, when she knows things about him he tries to keep from her. How about that first night when he took you out and almost broke the bank trying to bluff you into thinkin' he was in your class?"

That was sufficient argument for Camilla. She never had overcome her vagrancy from that episode. "Well, of course, anything like that," she admitted.

"Exactly what I mean," he declared.

"Why, if there is anything I can do to help Peter instead of hurting his chances, I'd like to know about it," she agreed.

"How about walkin' outside for the rest of this dance, while I tell you something, then, for your own good as well as his?" Gus invited.

Camilla consented readily. They strolled toward the line hedge, which was no longer fragrant with panicles of bloom, but the night was sweet and warm with the promise of summer. "There are some benches around here, somewhere," he said. "We could sit down and rest while we talk."

Dirt washes off without scrubbing...

With Gillett's Pure Flake Lye you can actually wash the dirt away. Use a solution of 1 teaspoonful of Gillett's Lye dissolved in a quart of cold water. Off come stubborn spots and stains. No rubbing, no scrubbing needed.

Use Gillett's Lye whenever there's a heavy cleaning job to do—for greasy pots, the kitchen floor, sinks and bathtubs.

Gillett's Pure Flake Lye will not harm enamel or plumbing. Use it full strength for cleaning toilet bowls and clearing drains. It kills germs, and takes away odors, too.

Order a tin today. At your grocer's.

* Never dissolve lye in hot water. The action of the lye itself heats the water.

Free Booklet

The Gillett's Lye Booklet tells you how to avoid dangerous and unsatisfactory cleaning by using this powerful cleanser and disinfectant for dozens of heavy cleaning jobs.

Also contains full directions for soap making, bleaching and other uses on the back for free. Write: Standard Brands Limited, Fraser Avenue & Liberty Street, Toronto, Ontario.

EATS DIRT

GILLETT'S LYE

Camilla knew well where the benches were, and located one easily. "Whew!" exclaimed Gus, "Society's not in my line. A little of that goes a long way with me. Of course," he amended in a lower voice, "it's different dancin' with a swell girl like you."

"Let's talk about Peter," she suggested quickly. "What do you think I should know about him, Mr. Matson?"

"So she doesn't want to hear about him, at all," he soliloquized. "I don't count. She wants to know about Peter. Any right, any right, baby, get a load of this." He announced abruptly in reply to her question, "That's a cheat and a double-crosser!"

Camilla gasped, astonished to find him. He scoffed at refinement and knew all there was to know, told the world, too, in no uncertain terms. She had tolerated him only for Peter's sake, who pitied him and believed that what he needed and deserved was a helping hand. Peter was so kind-hearted and glib, and this was the way he was being repaid for his charity.

Radio Burglar Alarm

Device Made By Japanese Firm Is Also Advertising Novelty

A novel burglar alarm which may also be used as an advertising device is claimed to have been developed by a Japanese firm, according to Assistant Trade Commissioner Donald W. Smith in Tokyo.

The new device which is called the "Radio Alarm," operates from the electric capacity contained in the human body. The delicate apparatus of the machine immediately starts an alarm ringing, switches on the electric lighting system or automatically fires a gun when a person comes within the range of the device.

The "radio alarm" may also be used in connection with advertising displays in shop windows. A dark window may be suddenly illuminated when a pedestrian approaches. The merchandise within the shop window may be caused to move, and advertising signs made to flash on and off.

The new device is small and compact, the entire apparatus being contained in a case 10 1/2 x 7 1/2 x 1 1/2 inches. Its makers claim that it is durable and requires no extra attention after installation. The device does not operate from the electric current supply and it is claimed that it never fails to function.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

— SUCH AS I HAVE

The poet quotes: "Silver and gold have I none; 'Silver and gold have I none; But such as I have I will give unto you."

And he shows men the sunrise and setting sun And the April sky with its rain-washed blue. He lifts up the veil from their listless eyes To give them the glamour of sea and shore, He opens their ears to the four winds' sighs And to the sirens' song through the breakers' roar.

"Of such as I have I will give," cries he, And he teaches the goodness which dwells unguessed, The spark divine which few eyes can see. That is glowing deep in the human breast.

Of patience and sacrifice he writes, Of the long endeavor, the steady goal, Until in the end his message lights An answering gleam in each listening soul.

War On The Hitch-Hiker

The Royal Automobile Club of Canada, a Montreal organization, has declared war on hitch-hikers and is endeavoring to enlist the support of the provincial and municipal police forces in a campaign to stamp out this ever-growing highway nuisance which, this summer, threatened to menace the safety of motorists on the highways and city streets.

In one day recently $2,050,000 in gold was landed in England from India.

A doctor says starving for silliness makes women irritable. Hence the expression, "Fast and furious."

Little Helps For This Week

"Whoso putteth his trust in the Lord shall be safe."—Proverbs 28:25. "I will cry unto God most high, unto God that performeth all things for me."—Psalm 67:2.

May all our restless hearts keep still, And wait in cheerful hope; content To take whatever His gracious will, His all-discerning love hath sent; Nor doubt our innermost wants are known.

To Him who chooses us for His own, O Neuman, God has brought us unto this time.

If we are not fit to cope with that which he has prepared for us, we should have been utterly unfit for any condition we imagine for ourselves. In this time we are to live and wrestle, and no other. Let us humbly look at it, and we shall not wish that the sun could go back its ten degrees, or that we could go back with it. If easy times have departed it is that the difficult times may make us more in earnest; that they may teach us not depend on ourselves. If easy belief is impossible, it is that we may learn what belief is, and in whom it is to be placed.—F. D. Maurice.

Girl Repairs Famous Clock

Accomplished Task Which Baffled New York's Male Clockmakers

A twenty-year-old girl accomplished a task which had baffled New York's best male clockmakers, and inches. Its makers claim that it is the Hotel Martinique's famous 300-year-old clock again is ticking after being silent for a week.

The girl, Miss Louise Weyer, of Astoria, I.L.I., read of the $30,000 clock's stopping for the first time since it was placed in the hotel's lobby in 1911, and of the absence from the city of the clocksmith who regularly tends it.

She volunteered her services, donned a smock and soon had the clock operating again.

Longest Lived Animal

Tame elephants have lived for over a century—wild elephants probably live 150 years or more. Mystery surrounds the end of these great animals, who seem to disappear without leaving a single clue to the treasure hunters who seek their valuable ivory.

Ladies Aid Staged Amusing Plays in Club Room

The program sponsored by the Ladies Aid in the United church hall on Wednesday evening proved to be very enjoyable.

The programme opened with a violin solo by John Pietraszko. In the short play entitled "Her Crowned Glory," Audrey Dunlop played the part of poor Aunt Emmy, whose relatives were always dying, making it necessary for her to continually wear mourning attire. When she does appear in a new showy hat she is severely criticized by two sophisticated cronies, whose parts were taken by Mrs. Arthur Jones and Mrs. Robert Evans, and who gave a very humorous element to the skit. Gwen Dunlop was the inquisitive child who complicated matters considerably. Umie Johnson and Eileen Richards as Guy and Dorothy contributed the romantic touch which made the scene complete.

In the interval between plays solos were sung by J. Cousins and Eileen Richards.

In the second play entitled "The Return of Deborah," Mrs. R. Taylor and Mrs. Holmes represented two superstitious old maids who lived only to please their Aunt Deborah, who had died twenty years previously. Dolina McLeod as Delia the maid proved to be a very outspoken young person whose one weakness was also superstition. The love problems of Margaret (Joanna Flynn) the niece, were solved in a rather mysterious way by the bold, well-meaning Blossom, whose part was brilliantly taken by Miss Vinona Taylor.

Miss B. L. Dunlop put in much time in directing the players and the musicians were accompanied on the piano by Miss M. Powell.

POPULAR PRIEST HONORED

(Fernie Free Press)
Reverend Father MacDonnell, rector of the Holy Family Parish for the past twelve months, left Fernie on Tuesday morning on a visit to his home in Australia, where he intends to spend some time in the company of his father who has now reached the exceptional age of 104. However, Father MacDonnell has not shaken the dust of British Columbia off his feet, for he intends to cross the equator again, on his way back to these shores in the not too far distant future.

On Sunday evening the Fernie Knights of Columbus held an informal social evening and presented their departing pastor with small tokens of his esteem and affection in which he was held by his parishioners in the form of a set of pipes and an elegant bag.

WORK OF THE PRESS

This week there occurred an incident, interesting at least to the local press, remarks the High River Times. "A business man in a remote city had contemplated purchasing a business in High River. He was in doubt as to the move, and as a precautionary measure decided to subscribe to the High River Times and find what manner of town this might be. For six months, it seems, he has been one of our subscribers, studying news columns and advertisements and probabilities and the class of people here. Apparently he was satisfied with what he read through and between the pages of The Times, for he has this week arrived in town to complete the contemplated deal. . . . And, as has been repeated to the point of monotony, the weekly newspaper is, in a sense, the show window of the district, and the editor is constantly seeking for attractive material with which to dress his show window. He reacts to the news of any little achievement or success on the part of any citizen, as a father reacts to good news from a member of his family. It is something bright, colorful or valuable for the show window. And there is no telling whose eye may be attracted. Remember, if there is some modest accomplishment to your credit, or to the credit of your neighbor, let your newspaper know about it. It will brighten the show window."
